

Purpose-Driven Food Consumers Target Group Developments During COVID-19

April 2022

Table of Contents

INTRODUCTION

Scope Key findings

WHAT HAS BEEN THE EFFECT OF COVID-19 ON CONSUMER PREFERENCES?

Growth in number of respondents engaged with environmental action Free and money-saving activism for the environment most common Environmental activity engagement has plummeted Booming engagement with some social actions during the pandemic Globally declining room for charitable giving hurts sustainability premium Donation popularity in developed markets goes against global decline War in Ukraine contributes to a further priority shift in Europe from green to social The long-term trend towards greater social attention Fewer consumers willing to pay than the share influenced Meat reduction trend remains strong in key markets

IS FOOD LABELLING KEEPING UP WITH CONSUMER DEMAND?

Little correlation between supply and demand of environmental claims Fairtrade carries additional cost and is mostly used for premium products

OUTLOOK

Inflation unlikely to impact willingness to pay sustainability premium Cost-efficient sustainability measures secure traction among mid-segment Companies need to align CSR strategy with consumers' shifting priorities

APPENDIX

Overview of Lifestyles survey

About Euromonitor International

Euromonitor International is an independent market intelligence provider. Data, insight and analysis stem from in-the-field research spanning 210 national markets.

Content ranges from the in-depth and country-specific, to key strategic themes with a global range and significance. Products cover a comprehensive range of insights and market data, but can be broadly categorised as:

- Strategy Briefings: Global or regional in scope, and focussing on the most important themes shaping consumer demand, the key markets, competitive environment and future outlook across a range of industries.
- Company Profiles: Analysis dedicated to the world's most significant companies, with detailed insight into their activities, focus of operations, their competitors, their geographic presence and performance.
- Country Reports: For an in-depth understanding of specific countries, whether by industry, economic metrics or consumer trends and lifestyles. These reports cover current trends, consumer demand, market potential and future prospects, with country-specific local insight and comprehensive data, unavailable elsewhere.

For more information on this report, further enquiries can be directed via this link www.euromonitor.com/purpose-driven-food-consumers-target-groupdevelopments-during-covid-19/report.